

Matt Aleksic

Associate

London

Biography

Matt provides strategic legal advice and representation to clients engaged in disputes, investigations, and regulatory challenges. His experience spans a diverse range of industries including consumer products, financial services, insurance, media, energy, retail, and construction. He has recently been involved in guiding automotive and medical product manufacturers through High Court litigation.

Matt serves as a dedicated advocate for his clients, driven by achieving positive outcomes that are fair but also commercially practical. His adeptness in crafting and articulating innovative arguments, grounded in both factual analysis and academic rigour, ensures that clients receive robust and tailored representation. In 2024, Matt was appointed as a fee-paid Judge of the First-tier Tribunal, sitting in the Immigration and Asylum Chamber on a part-time basis. Matt was also elected to serve on the Council of the Law Society of England and Wales to represent the interests of solicitors of Central London.

Before joining Hogan Lovells, Matt honed his expertise in dispute resolution and investigations at a leading international law firm's London office. During this time, he also completed a secondment at a major investment bank, further enhancing his understanding of corporate dynamics and regulatory complexities. He also articulated with a top-ranked litigation and insolvency boutique firm in Toronto.

Prior to his legal career, Matt's tenure in public policy
