

Alice Jowitt

Knowledge Lawyer
London

Biography

Alice is a knowledge lawyer in the Litigation and Arbitration practice at Hogan Lovells in London. She works with our lawyers and clients to help them meet their training and knowledge management needs. Alice focusses on costs management and related issues and also deals with all areas of relevant civil procedure. She was previously an associate in the firm's Product Liability team, with a focus on disputes about medical devices including hip and knee replacements. She also has experience in other areas of civil litigation and of tribunal procedures. Alice has higher rights of audience and practical experience of appearing before the courts, having originally qualified as a criminal barrister.

Latest thinking and events

- Hogan Lovells Publications
 - New disclosure rules: evolution or revolution?

Phone

+44 20 7296 2000

Fax

+44 20 7296 2001

Email

alice.jowitt@hoganlovells.com

Practices

Litigation Services

Education and admissions

Education

M.A., University of Cambridge, 2004

Bar admissions and qualifications

Solicitor, England and Wales

Court admissions

Senior Courts of England and Wales
