Biography

Saad Alrashed is a dually qualified lawyer, both in England and Wales (as a Solicitor of the Supreme Court) and in Saudi Arabia. He has several years of legal practice experience in both Saudi Arabia and UK; this is in addition to his local legal knowledge having worked at the Bureau of Experts (BOE) at the Council of Ministers in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia (where he established a new legal research unit and developed the methods and general ethos of the BOE).

Saad was later seconded as a leading member of the Ministry of Economy and Planning's National Transformation Plan for the Saudi Vision 2030, before moving on to set up law practice Z.S&R along with his two partners.

Saad focuses on public and legislative law, along with contentious matters. He worked in four different jurisdictions for several years and is familiar with cross-border legal matters. Saad is also a contributory author of several published papers.
