

Angela Gee

Counsel
London

Biography

Angela Gee works closely with clients and their property management advisers to streamline the administration of instructions within the real estate team. She understands that the smooth running of transactions and communication with clients from instruction logging, timely reporting of transaction information through to the uploading of completed documents to client databases is important for modern business needs.

Angela has a deep understanding of client requirements and ensures that client procedures are followed with consistency of approach and quality through regular reviews and discussions with both client and Hogan Lovells team members. Angela is a non-practicing lawyer who trained and qualified at Lovell White Durrant (now Hogan Lovells). She has also worked on all aspects of property management for major institutional clients including landlord and tenant, portfolio management and sales and purchases of industrial, retail and office premises and manages the firm's Mexican-Wave outsourcing system.

Representative experience

Works closely with M&G Real Estate and other major clients. Has written a number of articles on Mexican-Wave and outsourcing.
