

Institutional Investors

Institutional investors need to be sure their strategies cater for the swing of the macroeconomic pendulum as they seek consistent returns in a volatile market.

Far more than an adjunct to our sponsor/GP practice, we have built a strong LP/investor practice in its own right.

Our diverse client base includes funds of funds, sovereign wealth organizations, governmental and policy-driven investor organizations, and the pension plans of some of the world's leading commercial businesses. We represent lead and passive investors and financial and strategic investors.

Our sensitivity to the needs and interests of potential investors is also valuable when advising making new funds more attractive to potential investors.
