

Market Infrastructure

At Hogan Lovells, we have developed a dedicated global team of market infrastructure lawyers who advise complex organizations, including exchanges, clearing houses, and settlement system operators on legal and regulatory issues.

We advise on regulation, systems and controls, and enforceability of rules against insolvent members. We have worked on some of the biggest market infrastructure projects in recent years, including the establishment of new clearing houses. Our experience advising market infrastructure operators also makes us well-placed to advise the users of these critical systems.

Representative experience

Advised the London Metal Exchange on the establishment of LME Clear, an EMIR compliant metal derivatives CCP.

Advised DTCC on the establishment of EuroCCP Ltd, a Pan-European equities CCP.

Advised Hong Kong Exchanges and Clearing Group on the recognition by ESMA of its Hong Kong CCPs.

Advised on the establishment of N2EX Power Exchange for the trading of energy spot and derivative contracts.
