

Tax Disputes and Controversy

Tax authorities don't always agree with your carefully considered tax position. Sometimes they want you to do things you don't want to do. Sometimes they behave unfairly. Sometimes they get the law wrong or it is not enforceable. And sometimes there has just been a mistake that needs unwinding with minimal tax cost.

Hogan Lovells has real tax disputes knowledge on four continents. Our global team knows tax authorities. We know how to resolve problems. We know tax. And we know each other, knowledgesharing and working together to solve cross-border problems. From tax audits to Supreme Courts, we can help.
