

Peter Bautz

Associate
New York

Biography

Peter Bautz has advised some of the world's largest companies on novel and complex litigation matters. Known for being efficient, creative, and collaborative, Peter effectively emphasizes pragmatism and innovation in service of the needs of his clients.

Peter has litigated cases for clients across a wide range of industries, including technology, aviation, securities, ecommerce, and pharmaceuticals. His clients range from small businesses and individuals to large, public and private companies worldwide. He has successfully negotiated settlements over contract disputes related to licensing agreements and supply contracts, brought claims on behalf of purchasers of Boeing 737 MAX aircraft, and counseled clients through high stakes lawsuits involving M&A deals and data breaches. Peter's wide-ranging curiosity and analytical drive make him a go-to contributor on challenging matters of all kinds.

Peter also maintains an active pro bono practice focused on protecting voting rights and civil rights. In the wake of COVID-19, he defended Virginia's decision to permit people to vote absentee in the 2020 primary election through an amicus brief and represented detainees seeking release from county jails due to health concerns over social distancing and mask wearing. He was selected as the firm's representative to the Law Firm Anti-Racism Alliance's voting rights working group.

Prior to joining the firm, Peter served as a judicial intern
