

Jennifer Bevilacqua

Senior Associate

Houston

Biography

Jennifer Bevilacqua focuses her practice on commercial litigation and employment matters, with a particular focus helping clients in the energy and technology sectors. Jennifer has experience advising clients from the beginning of litigation with factual development and electronic discovery through the successful resolution of litigation with dispositive motion practice, mediation, and trial.

Jennifer began her Hogan Lovells career as a summer associate in 2017. While in law school, Jennifer served as a submissions editor for The Review of Litigation, staying abreast of cutting-edge issues related to the process of litigation. She is passionate about pro bono causes, particularly those related to violence against women and fair sentencing. In the Children's Rights Clinic at UT Law, Jennifer advocated on behalf of children in child protective services.
