

Hunter Davis

Senior Associate
Washington, D.C.

Biography

Hunter Davis is a trusted litigator who helps clients navigate challenging matters, including complex litigation and investigations.

Hunter has worked with clients in the health care industry in cases involving the False Claims Act, Anti-Kickback Statute, and Stark Law. She has substantial experience with various phases of complex litigation, including large-scale document collection and review, fact and expert witness depositions, and dispositive motions. She has drafted motions and briefs in federal district and appellate courts.

Hunter has also assisted on internal, federal, and state investigations. She has significant experience responding to document and data requests, conducting witness interviews, and synthesizing key facts into memoranda, reports, and recommendations.

Hunter has maintained an active pro bono practice since joining the firm, focusing extensively on criminal justice matters. She has helped draft a petition for a writ of certiorari in a death penalty case, a criminal sentencing appeal in the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit, and motions for compassionate release for a client at grave medical risk during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Before joining Hogan Lovells, Hunter graduated cum laude from Michigan Law, where she served as a notes editor for the Michigan Journal of International Law and gained valuable experience as a student attorney
