

Yair Even-Tal

Senior Associate

Baltimore

Washington, D.C.

Biography

Yair advises public companies, boards of directors, special committees and independent committees on SEC reporting and disclosure requirements, corporate governance, fiduciary duties, and public and exempt securities offerings.

Yair counsels public companies and boards of directors on strategic transactions, interactions with stock exchanges and other regulatory bodies, and security holders, including shareholder engagement and proxy contests. He draws on his experience spanning diverse jurisdictions and industries, including technology, healthcare and life sciences, retail and consumer products, and aerospace and defense.

Prior to joining Hogan Lovells, Yair was an associate at an AmLaw 100 firm in Washington, DC, where his practice focused on capital markets transactions, securities regulation, and corporate governance. Yair began his career in Israel, where he practiced in the corporate transactions department of a leading law firm.

Representative experience

Defense technology company on its US$180 million IPO on the Australian Securities Exchange, alongside a Rule 144A/Reg. S offering

Cloud based platform company on its US$72million IPO on Nasdaq

Phone

+1 410 659 2713 (Baltimore)

+1 410 659 2713 (Washington, D.C.)

Fax

+1 410 659 2701

Email

yair.even-tal@hoganlovells.com

Languages

English
Hebrew
French

Education and admissions

Education

LL.M., Duke University School of Law, 2013

LL.B., Reichman University, 2009

B.B.A. Finance, Reichman University, 2009

Biotech company on its US$54 million IPO on Nasdaq

Biotech company on its US$36 million follow-on offering on NYSE

Recruiting platform company on its US$28million IPO on Nasdaq

Life sciences company on its US$18 million IPO on Nasdaq

International confectionery manufacturer and retailer in connection with a proxy contest by a private equity firm

The special committee of the board of directors of a NASDAQ-listed technology company, as U.S. counsel in a going-private transaction

*Matter handled prior to joining Hogan Lovells.

Bar admissions and qualifications

District of Columbia

Maryland

New York

Texas

Israel
