

Natalie Granda

Associate
Miami

Biography

Natalie Granda focuses her practice on commercial litigation and has experience representing domestic and international companies across various industries.

She received her J.D. from the University of Chicago Law School and completed her undergraduate studies at the University of Miami, where she majored in English and Political Science and minored in Criminology.

Prior to joining Hogan Lovells, Natalie served as a judicial intern for the Honorable Cecilia M. Altonaga of the Southern District of Florida, where she gained valuable writing experience and in-depth knowledge about trial procedure. While in law school, Natalie served as an articles editor for the University of Chicago Law School Legal Forum, and her student Comment was selected for publication in the journal's 2021 volume.

A member of the Miami office's diversity committee, Natalie is passionate about helping the firm deliver on its commitment to diversity and inclusion. Natalie also devotes significant time to pro bono matters, ranging from divorce and child custody cases to representing veterans and victims of domestic violence.
