Biography

Madeleine Horrocks is a dual-qualified English and Italian lawyer with a broad finance and capital markets practice. She advises banks, corporates and financial institutions active in the European financial markets, in particular in Greece and Italy. Her practice covers many types of lending and capital markets work, with a particular emphasis on securitization, NPLs, covered bonds, impact finance and ESG, derivatives and secured lending.

She regularly represents arrangers, lead managers, swap counterparties, issuers and trustees on capital markets matters including ESG bonds and state guaranteed securitizations. She is also considered a sustainable finance pioneer thanks to her years working with social responsibility lenders and clean tech borrowers on sustainable finance transactions in the developing world.

She has been based permanently in Italy since 2003.

Madeleine is ranked in Chambers and Partners Global Guide 2023 for Capital Markets Italy (Foreign expert) and has been described as "Superlative: pragmatic with a business orientated approach which allows her to solve complex issues always and easily".
