Biography

Jon is an attorney admitted to practice both in Spain (2004) and in New York (2009).

During the first 6 years of his professional career, Jon was mainly devoted to transactional matters, including among others, M&A transactions, IPOs and other capital market transactions, corporate reorganizations, joint ventures, commercial contracts and insolvency.

Based on such previous transactional experience, Jon is today a lawyer with an unusual cross-wise training and experience that allow him being in a superb position for advising and representing clients in complex multidisciplinary matters.

After 12 years of professional experience, Jon is a highly qualified litigation lawyer specialized in complex corporate disputes (litigation and arbitration) deriving from M&A transactions, shareholders agreements, private equity transactions, joint ventures, corporate liability actions, challenge of corporate resolutions, etc.

Jon has also broad experience in commercial and contractual litigation and arbitration in numerous sectors, such as the automotive sector, the industrial one, e-commerce, real estate or consumer law.

During the last years, Jon has advised several companies (as claimants and defendants) in antitrust litigation (i.e. private damage actions deriving from antitrust infringements, such as cartels).
