

Emily Julier

Counsel Knowledge Lawyer
London

Biography

Emily Julier is a senior knowledge lawyer in our Sustainability Finance and Investment team, covering all sustainability, environmental, social, and governance issues which affect Hogan Lovells clients and products. She liaises with other practice groups in respect of sustainable finance and supports the Sustainable Finance and Investment team in developing material relevant to the team's practice for use both internally and with clients. Emily moved into legal knowledge support in 2022, before which she was a capital markets transactional lawyer.

Latest thinking and events

- Insights and Analysis
 - UK Spotlight: calling all company directors – your legal obligations to consider nature-related risks
- News
 - UK / EU / International ESG Regulation Monthly Round-Up – May 2024
- News
 - New ECHR judgments lead the way for future climate protection lawsuits
- News
 - UK: FCA Anti-greenwashing guidance and extension of the SDR to portfolio managers
- News
 - Fostering integrity and trust in ESG ratings and data products providers – UK, Japan, Singapore

Phone

+44 20 7296 2000

Fax

+44 20 7296 2001

Email

emily.julier@hoganlovells.com

Languages

English

Areas of focus

Sustainable Finance & Investment

Education and admissions

Education

Sustainable Finance Course,
University of Cambridge Institute for Sustainable Leadership, 91%, 2024

Legal Practice Course, Oxford
Institute of Legal Practice,
Distinction, 2004

Graduate Diploma in Law,
Nottingham Law School, Distinction, 2003

and EU

- News

- UK/EU ESG Regulation Round-Up – Q1 2024

Masters in Chemistry, University of Warwick, First, 2002

Memberships

Law Society of England and Wales

Institute of Corporate Responsibility and Sustainability

Global Alliance for Impact Lawyers
