Biography

Bradley Kulman practices corporate and securities law, with particular focus on mergers and acquisitions and private equity (portfolio company acquisitions and dispositions). He has extensive experience representing buyers and sellers of investment management businesses and represents several prominent family offices in their investments and succession planning.

Brad regularly counsels clients involved in general corporate and securities transactions, including venture capital and other public and private offerings of debt and equity securities. He has served as outside general counsel for portfolio companies of private equity firms and real estate development and management companies, and has represented U.S. and European interests in the acquisition of significant Hungarian businesses, including the country's largest banks, and electricity supply and generation companies.

Brad represents numerous pro bono clients, including NYC Kids RISE, which operates an innovative college scholarship and savings platform across all public elementary schools in New York City. He also represents non-profit organizations focused on music instruction and health care.

Brad has been recognized by Best Lawyers in America, The Legal 500, and Super Lawyers. Additionally, he was a finalist for M&A Advisor's annual M&A Advisor Award.
