

Katy J. Milner

Partner

Washington, D.C.

Biography

Katy Milner provides legal and strategic advice to a broad cross-section of telecommunications and technology industry clients on regulatory, transactional, and compliance matters.

Katy has a wealth of experience providing clients with practical guidance and valued counsel on spectrum acquisition and utilization, wireless services and satellite regulation, cybersecurity and data privacy, public safety and 911 services, international telecommunications matters, connected vehicles and the Internet of Things, and broadband and Internet policy. Katy also has significant experience advising clients on uncrewed aircraft systems (UAS) matters, particularly on FCC-related activity. Katy advocates for her clients before the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), Congress, the Executive Branch, and other federal agencies.

Katy enjoys working with clients on bringing cutting edge communications technologies to market, developing regulatory strategies and policy positions, and growing their businesses. To achieve client objectives, Katy frequently collaborates with colleagues across practice groups in the U.S. and globally. She also maintains an active pro bono practice.
