Biography

Thomas Petrie tackles sophisticated transactional matters with a passion for drafting and excellent attention to detail. With a focus on intellectual property, technology and general commercial transactions, Thomas approaches complex contracts with legal and business goals in mind.

Thomas works on an array of contracts—including IP and technology licensing agreements, proprietary information and invention assignment agreements, customer, vendor and reseller agreements, software development agreements, IP-related acquisition, collaboration and joint venture agreements and consumer-facing terms and conditions related to sweepstakes, contests and other promotions. Prior to joining the firm, Thomas served as a judicial extern for the Honorable Timothy M. Tymkovich of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit and the Honorable John L. Kane of the U.S. District Court for the District of Colorado.

Thomas's drive to produce exceptional legal work began in law school, where he graduated at the top of his class. Thomas also served as the President of the University of Colorado Law School's Business and Tax Law Association and as an associate member of the University of Colorado Law Review.
