

12 July 2016

This paper summarizes some potential alternative models for the UK's future relationship with the European Union, together with the key differences between the models which will need to be addressed in determining both the shape and impact of that new relationship.

The purpose of this paper is to enable business to understand the principle features of the potential outcomes to the political process underway, rather than to address specific issues, of which there are many, in detail.

In this note you will find:

- A summary of the key features of the UK's current membership of the EU;
- Four potential alternative models for the UK's future relationship with the EU, together with their key features;
- An overview comparison of each of the four potential alternative models.

Click here to read the full report.

Contacts

Dr. Tim
Oliver
Brandi, LL.M.
(Columbia)

Partner

Charles
Brasted

Partner

Lourdes
Catrain

Partner

Prof. Dr.
Thomas
Dünchheim

Partner

Adrian Emch

Partner

Ciara
Kennedy-
Loest

Partner

Rachel Kent

Partner

Robert
Masman

Partner

Andrew
McGinty

Partner

Lucas
Osorio

Partner

Hugo
Paemen

Senior Advisor

Jacky
Scanlan-
Dyas

Partner

Dr. Falk
Schöning

Partner

Rupert
Shiers

Partner

Christopher
Thomas

Office
Managing
Partner

Peter Watts

Partner

> Read the full article online