

22 January 2020

Hogan Lovells

The pace of False Claims Act (FCA) litigation remained furious over the past year. Companies (and individuals) in all sectors of the economy continue to face the ever-present threat of FCA enforcement whenever they do business with the government, participate in government programs, or engage the government on tariffs and trade duties. Understanding how recent decisions and trends could affect your business is critical.

In the latest edition of our FCA guide, we analyze and discuss in detail the key developments from 2019 and how the most important cases and issues are shaping FCA enforcement now – and in the years to come.

Access the Guide: FCA Guide: 2019 and the road ahead

Contacts

Gregory F.
Noonan

Partner

Michele W.
Sartori

Partner

Jonathan L.
Diesenhaus

Partner

Jessica L.
Ellsworth

Partner

Gejaa T.
Gobena

Partner

Mitchell J.
Lazris

Partner

Peter S.
Spivack

Partner

Michael C.
Theis

Partner

Allison J.
Caplis

Counsel

Jennifer
Brechbill

Counsel

Michael J.
Scheimer

Partner

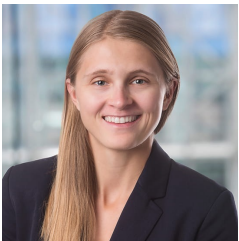

Matthew C.
Sullivan

Partner

Katherine
Culora

Associate

Hunter
Davis

Associate

Clara Troyer

Associate

> Read the full article online