

01 March 2019

In this issue

Feature: Under the microscope: is the European Product Liability Directive fit for the tech revolution?

Science Unit Update: Focus on 5G

Europe – EU: Deadline for new limit value adoption: chromium VI in scraped-off toy material

Europe – France: Artificial intelligence: what's the plan in France?

Europe – Netherlands: Acknowledgment of liability not legally binding if contradictory facts and circumstances arise later on

Europe - UK: Collective redress and other changes: Scotland update

U.S.: Putting a stop to limitless time: U.S. Supreme Court declines to extend tolling doctrine

Asia Pacific – Japan: The need for speed: The race between autonomous vehicles and the law

If you would like a copy of the publication, please contact Tomoe Takahashi or Wataru Nakajima.

Contacts

Tomoe
Takahashi

Partner

> Read the full article online