The Daily Journal

Partner John Brockland recently penned a byline for The Daily Journal unpacking four key considerations for AI in M&A transactions. This topic is one that he will dig into during the upcoming Silicon Valley M&A Forum on 24 April, led and hosted by partner Richard Climan, Global Head of Tech M&A. During this live event, John will lead a discussion of emerging legal trends in acquisitions of businesses with AI-related technology and operations. The forum will also feature a discussion on AI and M&A with Zaheed Kajani of Evercore.
