

Jeni Stallings

Associate

Denver

Miami

Biography

Jeni Stallings is a problem-solver who provides practical, clear advice to international and domestic clients on corporate and finance matters in the energy and natural resources sector, with a particular focus on project development and acquisitions. Jeni joined the firm as a Summer Associate in 2019 and returned for a second term in 2020.

Jeni also advises clients on American Indian law and policy matters with a focus on commercial project development, tax, jurisdictional matters and government-to-government relations. She is a member of the Cherokee Nation and serves her community by volunteering to assist high school students with college applications and as a mentor for the Dartmouth College Native American Program where she helps students navigate the transition and challenges that an Ivy League Institution presents.

Jeni is a member of the Hogan Lovells Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) Working Group and a contributor to the Hogan Lovells ESG Global Vision Tool. Jeni advises clients on ESG matters relating to energy and natural resources.

As an undergraduate selected by the Udall Foundation, Jeni interned at the U.S. Department of Justice in the Environment and Natural Resources Division, Law and Policy Section where she conducted research and projects on cases regarding the Indian Child Welfare

Phone

+1 303 454 2432 (Denver)

+1 305 459 6500 (Miami)

Fax

+1 303 899 7333

Email

jeni.stallings@hoganlovells.com

Practices

Environment and Natural Resources
Infrastructure, Energy, Resources, and Projects

Industries

Energy and Natural Resources

Areas of focus

Native Americans

Environment and Climate Change
Legislation and Policy

Energy Legislation and Policy

Infrastructure/Energy M&A and Joint Ventures

Act, illegal logging in Central Africa, and the protection of Atlantic bluefin tuna. Jeni also served as a Congressional Intern for U.S. Congressman Tom Cole (OK-04) in 2014.

Representative experience

Assisting a Japanese financial services organization in successfully navigating Colorado mortgage law.

Drafting coal-to-nuclear regulation charts for a national energy industry trade association.

Assisting a global gold producer with intercompany transfer of shares.

Assisting a North Dakota landowner with their oil and gas lease, including advice on standard lease terms and federal royalties.

Land Use and Project Development
Natural Resource Management

Education and admissions

Education

Juris Doctor, University of Virginia
School of Law, Editor, Virginia
Environmental Law Journal, 2021

Bachelor Degree, Dartmouth
College, 2017

Memberships

Native American Alumni Association
Board, Dartmouth College, Member

Bar admissions and qualifications

Colorado
