

Rachel Stuckey

Associate

Washington, D.C.

Biography

Rachel Stuckey helps guide clients through complex internal and government investigations, and the risks associated with criminal and civil enforcement actions.

Rachel is also a dedicated member of the firm's Pro Bono practice, focusing on women and children's issues. She has successfully obtained civil protection orders for survivors of domestic violence and advocates for children's best interests as a guardian ad litem.

Prior to joining Hogan Lovells, Rachel clerked for the Honorable Eldon E. Fallon of the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Louisiana.

During law school, Rachel gained valuable experience in the Immigration Law Clinic and International Law Practice Lab. She also served on the Moot Court Board and as a Notes Editor for the Vanderbilt Law Review.

Latest thinking and events

- News
 - DOJ's Consumer Protection Branch rolls out new voluntary self-disclosure policy
- News
 - DOJ sets forth new incentives for companies to self-disclose and cooperate

Phone

+1 202 637 4861

Fax

+1 202 637 5910

Email

rachel.stuckey@hoganlovells.com

Practices

Investigations, White Collar, and Fraud

Crisis Leadership Team

Industries

Education

Life Sciences and Health Care

Education and admissions

Education

Juris Doctor, Vanderbilt Law School, 2020

Bachelor of Arts, University of Virginia, With Distinction, 2017

Memberships

Federal Bar Association

Women's Bar Association of DC

Bar admissions and qualifications

District of Columbia
