

Theresa Hudson

Senior Associate

London

Biography

A senior associate in our Commercial Dispute Resolution practice, Theresa Hudson's experience of working in our offices in a number of jurisdictions lends depth to her work on complex, cross-border, international disputes. Theresa's particular focus is on advising clients in relation to fraud litigation and claims for damages and injunctive relief before the English High Court arising out of anti-competitive conduct.

In recent years, Theresa has been a member of our teams working on high profile cases which are at the cutting edge of legal developments. Prior to returning to the London office, Theresa spent three years as a member of the growing Dispute Resolution practice in our Singapore office where she worked extensively with clients with a presence in the Asia-Pacific region. Theresa distinguished herself in her ability to effectively engage on legal principles unfamiliar to her clients, and her down to earth approach enabled her clients to negotiate through complex matters with ease.
