

Clara Troyer

Senior Associate

Denver

Biography

Clara Troyer focuses her practice on commercial litigation and investigations. She helps clients navigate their complex litigation and offers a comprehensive approach, balancing practical solutions and creative advocacy to resolve disputes. Clara's collaborative approach allows her to seamlessly partner with her clients to provide practical solutions.

Clara counsels a variety of clients on large commercial and contract disputes as well as internal investigations and compliance at all stages. She prioritizes taking the time to anticipate and understand her clients' key business considerations to provide legal advice catered to their specific needs and goals. Clara provides value to her teammates with her ability to organize and manage large-scale discovery, communicate clearly and frequently, and analyze relevant laws and regulations.

Clara also enjoys giving back to the community and has a robust pro bono and court-appointed practice, focusing on civil rights litigation. She enjoys being an active member of the Denver legal community and serves as a representative for the Legal Aid Foundation's annual Associates Fundraiser and Denver's Hogan Lovells Associates Committee.

In law school, Clara served as the Notes Editor on the Georgetown Journal of Gender and the Law, where she contributed to scholarly writing and research about the intersection of the law and social justice.
