

22 Mai 2015

World Trademark Review

The Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers (ICANN) launched the application process for new generic top-level domains (gTLDs) in January 2012. The new gTLD programme will result in an unprecedented expansion of the Domain Name System from the existing 22 TLDs, such as '.com' and '.org', to over 1,400 TLDs.

> Read the full article online