

Registries team up to launch three car-related new gTLDs

11 Juin 2015

World Trademark Review

The Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers (ICANN) launched the application process for new generic top-level domains (gTLDs) in January 2012. The new gTLD programme will result in an unprecedented expansion of the Domain Name System. At the time of writing, over 630 new gTLDs have been delegated and approximately 400 have been launched.

> Read the full article online